January Review

LTGT schools had an engaging and fun-filled January! The combination of learning about weather changes, celebrating MLK's birthday, and getting creative with food activities made for a memorable month. It's wonderful to see the children explore different aspects of their world through hands-on projects like making pizzas and learning about significant cultural events.

If you'd like to dive deeper into the specific crafts and activities from the MLK celebration, it would be great to ask your child's teacher. Similarly, recreating those creative pizzas at home could be a fun way to keep the learning and enjoyment going. Have fun trying those recipes together!

February Activities

February will be an exciting month at LTGT schools, filled with meaningful celebrations and engaging themes! Black History Month is an important time to learn and honor the contributions of Black individuals throughout history, and it's wonderful that there will be a Spirit Week to bring the community together in celebration.

Valentine's Day and themes of pets and love will also offer lots of fun, hands-on learning opportunities for the children. From crafts to lessons, it's sure to be a month filled with creativity and joy.

Be sure to keep an eye on the upcoming activities and plan to participate in as many as you can, there will be a lot of ways to get involved and show support!

LOVE Comes in different colors!

Reminder

To keep the children comfortable and safe, it's essential that they are dressed appropriately for the cold weather. Sending them with hats, gloves, scarves, boots, and winter coats will ensure they stay warm while enjoying nature walks and outdoor play.

Additionally, it's a good reminder to check and update their clothing in their lockers, as they might need extra layers or a change of clothes for the day. Staying prepared will help make the most of the outdoor experiences, even when it's chilly!
